October 2015 Hollywood learns about the Wim Hof Method : fLTR Rick Ruben, Orlando Bloom, Sasha Cohen, Laird Hamilton, Oprah Winfrey, and many others.

We also start to set up a crowdfunding vision for the Wim Hof Film project.

Due to de medical cases, he looks for a doctor to help him with the book's medical aspect.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Wim Hof Method

The Wim Hof Method as a case study for medical science is also supported by relevant scientific papers.

During his challenges in the hard yet righteous nature, Wim discovered a human potential to reach one's physiology and to influence it at will, which he developed to grow into the Wim Hof Method.

The Ellamo Foundation has been set up to support and stimulate the film about the man who offers this method to be investigated by scientists and spread around the world. Both the Ellamo Foundation and the Wim Hof Foundation agree on the same policies: to enhance a scientific research platform.

Such a journey and the promise for the future are the subject of this story which gives us an insight into the mission and passion of Wim Hof.

Therefore, a part of the royalties of the feature will be donated to the Wim Hof Foundation as long as it exists and is led by Wim Hof as stated in the contract between Wim Hof and Maria Isabel Productions.

General Notice

Wim Hof The Ice Man, is a project put up by Manely Vives Batista in 2010. He saw an opportunity to make a documentary about Wim Hof in unison with him. The documentary should provide a comprehensive and thorough insight into the Wim Hof passion and mission to share this natural method, by means of a feature documentary film, the first one in the world about this topic. With this in mind, MIP drew up a contract with Wim Hof to ensure access to important information and his cooperation to achieve this independent author film project.

For the last few years, MIP has been shaping this project. So far, there is a basic script which will be the starting point to produce a workable script as soon as the funding is available.

It is of utmost importance that this endeavour be professional and thorough; therefore, it is budgeted accordingly. Part of that concerns providing the legal basis that will enable us to complete the project as we wish.
